

Liberal 'Tolerance'

by Karen K., 03/07/2017

This week, the Weld County Republican Breakfast which has met proudly at the El Cielo Restaurant in Greeley for about a year now, was asked to find a different home. Some Democrats allegedly complained because the club supports Donald Trump.

Fox 31 News and CNN did a story about a growing number of roommate ads on CraigsList which include phrases like: "If you voted for Trump, don't bother, bro." and, "MUST be a decent human being. Trump supporters need not apply."

Fox proceeded to falsely report that they found one ad in Fort Collins that would only accept people who support Trump. But upon further investigation of the link provided, it was yet another anti-Trump ad: "I don't usually make these things political, but if you support our current president this will not be a good fit, sorry."

I submit that you'd be hard-pressed to find an ad from a Trump supporter that excludes people because of their opinions. Nevertheless, Trump supporters are constantly lectured about their "deplorableness," their racism, sexism, homophobia, and xenophobia. Our friends the Democrats even want to get into our bathrooms to make sure everyone is peeing fairly. If you disagree, you are "anti-trans."

What is going on? Could it be that the more people police others' tolerance and lecture them about their "kindness quotient," the more intolerant they are themselves? If one can convince oneself and others that his opponent is evil, isn't it easier to justify all manner of uncivil behavior? You can do almost any cruel or even violent thing and feel morally superior about it besides.

Like too many Republicans, the leadership of the Weld County breakfast didn't have much of a stomach to fight about it. They insisted that the group is better off anyway at their new meeting place. (We would like to suggest, if you're inclined to show support, that you mention to the General Manager, Joel Currey, that you're there because Weld County Republican Breakfast club is now meeting there! You can also email Joel at JCurrey@Rudys.com

Besides, Republicans believe in the right of private businesses to refuse service to anyone they want, right? But a nagging question remains: Why do "tolerance thugs" insist for example, that the law should force a Christian baker to bake a cake for a gay wedding but then also insist that a Republican group be thrown out of its meeting place because they support the President of the United States?

If you feel strongly about this issue, we request that you forward this to your lists. If you are additionally so inclined, please give a polite phone call to Tory, the owner of El Cielo Restaurants. See what he thinks about shutting down differences of opinion in these United States of America.
